Kim is the Tax Principal in Charge for the firm's Chattanooga office. She has 23 years experience in tax practice and is actively involved in the firm's tax compliance practice, which includes review of partnership, corporate, state, consolidated, and individual tax returns, tax planning and tax consultation. Areas of emphasis include state taxation, financial institutions, real estate development and closely held businesses.

Kim is licensed to practice in Tennessee and Rhode Island, and holds a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in Accounting from Rhode Island College.

She is a member of several professional organizations including the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants (AICPA), Chattanooga Tax Practitioners and the Tennessee Society of Certified Public Accountants (TSCPA), where she served as the 2010-2011 president of the Chattanooga Chapter. Kim is also a member of the Chattanooga Women's Leadership Institute, the Rotary Club and is a graduate of Leadership Chattanooga. Currently, she serves as the Board Chair of Girls, Inc. and has been appointed Chair of TSCPA Women Initiative Committee, which is an emerging committee focused on encouraging female leadership across Tennessee's accounting sector. She previously served as a Campaign Cabinet volunteer with United Way of Greater Chattanooga.
