 Litigation*

Brent A. McDade is managing director of Decosimo Advisory Services, the business valuation, litigation support and transaction advisory practice of Decosimo. In addition, he is a registered representative of Decosimo Corporate Finance, LLC, member SIPC, FINRA, a broker/dealer firm providing sell-side advisory services, capital sourcing, and fairness opinions.

He began working as a business appraiser in 1994, and his business valuation experience includes the appraisal of equity securities, debt instruments, and derivatives. Brent has provided valuation services related to buy-sell agreements, employee stock ownership plans, estate and gift tax matters, fairness opinions, financial statement reporting, marital dissolutions, mergers and acquisitions, and shareholder disputes.

Brent has served as an expert witness in disputes regarding business valuation and economic damages in federal and state courts, and he is a frequent speaker on business valuation topics to groups of business owners and their advisors. His clients include public and private companies ranging in size from local mom-and-pop operations to multi-national conglomerates.

Brent graduated cum laude with a Bachelor of Arts degree in economics from Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tennessee. He has earned the Accredited Senior Appraiser designation from the American Society of Appraisers (ASA), as well as the Certified Business Appraiser (CBA) and Business Valuator Accredited for Litigation (BVAL) credentials of the Institute of Business Appraisers (IBA).
