Luis Reyes is certified public accountant (CPA) and an audit supervisor in Decosimo's Atlanta office. He has more than nine years of experience with national, large and local public accounting firms.

During his career, Luis has worked with clients in a variety of industries including professional service, specialty retailers, healthcare, sports franchises, pharmaceutical companies, and employee benefit plan compliance. Clients in these industries range from private to venture-backed to SEC registrants. In addition, he has worked on special projects related to internal control implementation of non-accelerated filers.

In addition to his role with the assurance engagements, Luis is actively involved with Decosimo's transactional services team and has participated in numerous buy-side arrangements for a diverse range of industries including healthcare, distribution, technology, and professional services. Luis has provided transaction advisory services to private equity groups, as well strategic buyers, by performing accounting and financial due diligence in connection with mergers and acquisitions.
